The KlavarScore is a vertical representation of a musical score. It consists of 40 rows, each representing a measure of music. Each row contains four staves, which correspond to the four hands of a piano. A central vertical dashed line represents the center of the keyboard. Fingerings are indicated by numbers 1 through 5. Dynamics are marked with 'p' for piano and 'f' for forte. The score includes various musical notations such as slurs, ties, and accents. The piece is titled 'Scottish Air' and is by Carl Czerny, part of his '100 Recreations No. 50'. The tempo is 'Allegretto moderato' and the time signature is '1 m'.
