The image displays a scrolling KlavarScore for the piece 'Greensleeves'. The score is presented on a grid of 15 horizontal staves, numbered 1 to 15 on the left. A vertical dashed line indicates the current playing position, which moves from left to right across the staves. The notation consists of circles representing notes, with some circles filled (thick notes) and some hollow. Fingerings are indicated by numbers 1, 2, and 3. A diamond-shaped symbol is located at the top right of the first staff. Large, stylized letters 'D' and 'C' are placed on the right side of the staves, likely indicating specific notes or chords. At the bottom of the staves, there are small 'v' symbols and a '*' symbol. The overall layout is designed for a scrolling display on a screen.
